HONGKONG, THURSDAY, AUGUST 7, MR. ATTLEE CAUTIONS AGAINST ANY UNDUE OPTIMISM: HOME DEFENCES STRONGER THAN A YEAR AGO: THE

A CAUTION AGAINST UNDUE OPTIMISM WAS GIVEN BY MR. CLEMENT R. ATTLEE, LORD PRIVY SEAL. WHEN HE OPENED THE DEBATE ON THE WAR SITUATION IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS YESTERDAY. One outstanding fact of the position today, as compared with a year ago, was that Hitler was now fighting on two fronts which the German leaders had always striven to avoid.

Hitler had (says Reuter) attacked Britain furiously by air and he had waged war unceasingly at sea but the invasion, which at one time seemed imminent, had been postponed.

BUT, said the Lord Privy Seal, NOTHING COULD BE MORE FOOLISH THAN TO IMAGINE THAT POST-PONEMENT MEANT ABAND ONMENT.

The possibility of the attempt remained, and must remain, a constant factor in our considerations. Instructions had been given to all forces in the British Isles to bring to the highest state of readiness the preparations against invasion.

THE BRITISH ARMY AT HOME WAS WELL EQUIPPED AND READY AND ALL STRENGTH WAS IM-MEASURABLY GREATER THAN TWELVE MONTHS AGO.

ENTERTAINING CLASH BETWEEN CHUNG HWA MINDANAO AND THE

Although inclement weather again washed out half of the weekend baseball programme, local fans were not entirely deprived of their favourite sport as the J.S.S. MINDANAO and CHUNG HWA put on an entertaining clash on Saturday afternoon. The Mindanao lads won by the huge margin of 14 tallies to 1, but first class hurling by "Ski" Powlawski and some sparkling defensive work on both sides kept the game from being featureless.

STEADY HURLING

Steady hurling by Wally Ching held the winners up to the fifth frame, but tallies by Ruel, McKenzie, R. W. Wilson, Bowersox and Moore put paid to Chung Hwa's pennant hopes.

The Place Of The Christian Community In The Work Of Establishing Social Justice In The General Community

The problems connected with this subject are chiefly of a practical rather than a theoretical nature. There have been times when Christianity has been regarded as a purely personal affair and when any sermon which did not confine itself to the narrower aspects of personal morality or devotion aroused complaints that the preacher was mixing up politics and religion; when "business is business" was a motto which implied that morality and relig on had better not interfere; when the only scope of the religious life that was recognised was in the narrow sense of church-going and abstention from evil pleasures such as dancing and card-playing

That view of Christianity is fast promised. Labour is cheap and dying out. We know what is the plentiful, and can be obtained for answer to the question, "Am I my prices which do not give a living brother's keeper?", and the modern wage. How many of us could say swing away from individualism that we have not taken advantage has increased the tendency to con- of this situation? We have to blunt our consciences to provide ourselves with any excuse at all Consequently the sins of which we are most ashamed personally are not our social but our so-called private sins. SAIGON, Aug. o (Kenter)—While half a dozen Japanese freighters continue to come up the Salgon River daily past five destroyers and a cruiser moored on the bund, long lorry convoys coll towards the Thai frontier. A large number of lorries have departed since Saturday.

A typical convoy consists of half a dozen Harley Davidson combinations and 60 Chevrolet and Ford trucks, half containing 25 troops each and the remainder carrying a few troops and material, including small field pieces and trench mortars.

A few trucks trail long-barrelied 75's which are probably all-purpuse guns with high elevation against aircraft.

No heavy artillery is yet seen although warehouses and docks are sammed with material. It is now learned that except for a few hundred troops from Tonkin, the remainder of the forces arrived from Canton, a considerable proportion having seen service at Nanning.

Wartime Pamphlet On Growing Hops

Increased interest in the growing of hops has been general since 1930 in Eastern Canada and British Columbia, the two principal districts in which they are grown in Canada. However, the Canadian output has never been sufficient to meet the needs of the country and the deficiency has been supplied by Great Britain, Continental Europe, and the United States, over 60 per cent, of the imports coming from Europe.

In view of the fact that war time exigency will probably curtail the European source of supply, UNDERSTANDING the Agricultural Supplies Board has issued a pampitlet (No. 52) entitled "Hop Growing."

FINANCE & GENERAL

In general, hops do well on a 40 | fairly wide range of soil types. It is essential that the land be well drained and fertile. In Eastern Canada the greater part of the area planted to hops is sandy loam soil of medium to good fertility This soil type is usually better for hop production.

September

HEAVIER SOILS Under moderate climatic condihop districts of British Columbla, hops can be grown on somewhat heavier soils, but in Eastern Canada it is imperative the crop be grown on well-drained sandy loam to avoid the heavy losses occasioned by heaving by frost and the subsequent winter killing of the roots.

Even when grown on light soils. some winter killing does occur. but, with adequate snow cover. which is normally the case in Eastern Canada, the damage is usually slight.

ESTABLISHING SOCIAL JUSTICE

The sick, the hungry, the unhappy, the bereaved,-how numerous are the Christian organisations which seek to alleviate human misery. I need not give any League. examples. They are familiar to us

NOBLE TRADITION

This ambulance-work is a noble tradition, inherited from the middle ages when poverty probably was inevitable, and at any rate it was certainly believed that there was no alternative organisation of society imaginable. The Church led the way until society as a whole began to recognise its responsibility for many of these works of mercy, and the State took over hospitals, orphanages, and institutions for the poor. Perhaps in Hongkong, where the Governstill so far to go in meeting all its responsibilities in these directions, ambulance work is still the main task of the unanimous opinion of the Football Staff of the H.E. & E'hai Bkg. Charity is the supreme Christian virtue, but "charity" in the sense of giving what we can spare or in the sense of donations from firms with excessive profits is giving the same name to a very different thing.

Prehaps we ought to feel sorry not that we cannot give more but that we belong to a society which allows us to feel satisfied that "charity" is necessary. Cer ain conditions are damnable. If God has condemned them, is it not our duty to remove them just as much succour the victims of them?
